CHURCH MATTERS.

Rev. O. Badgley, of Cleveland, has preached 6,000 sermons.

There will be no preaching at the Methodist church Sunday.

Versailles Baptist church is to have a $4,000 Sunday-school addition.

J. W. Shepherd, of Nashville, will preach at the church on Lancaster street next Lord's day and night.

Louisville District Conference is in session at Columbia and there are between 250 and 300 preachers and laymen there.

Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, one of the most magnificent church structures in America, was dedicated in Cleveland, O. The edifice cost $1,000,000.

Remember that the splendid Baptist church at Brodhead will be dedicated next Sunday. Rev. H. C. Bow will preach the dedicatory sermon.

Southern Baptist contributions for home missions to September show an increase of 51 per cent. Of the $31,725.26 Kentucky gave $3,705.39. Georgia was the only State that gave none.

The hours for worship at the Presbyterian church on next Sunday will be 10:45 A. M. and 7:00 P. M. Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. and Christian Endeavor Society at 6:30 P. M. Morning subject: "What is Christianity?" Evening subject: "Heaven; Its Joys, Service. Shall we Know Each Other There?" The Rev. J. L. Yandell will preach at Willow Grove School House at 4:00 P. M. on next Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

With Rev. Sanford Logan, of Wilmore preaching, a protracted meeting will commence at the Southern Presbyterian church on Monday evening, which may last through two weeks. Special preparations are being made by the church in anticipation of a glorious revival and a wakening of the membership and those outside the church. Mr. Logan is one of the best known ministers of his denomination in the State. He has been remarkably blessed in the revivals which he has conducted for the past two or three years and is making quite a reputation as a revivalist and is in much demand. Mr. Crowe, the local pastor, will assist Mr. Logan throughout in the meeting which is looked forward to with the keenest anticipation by the members.—Frankfort Journal.

Rev. R. R. Noel hands us the following: "Am just in from my churches—Grove, Olive and Waynesburg. Thirty days, 66 additions; 43 by baptism. I had splendid help from Rev. E. L. Andrews and J. M. McFarland. The spirit of the Lord was present. Churches revived, although sickness, death and the weather got in their work. We bless God, take courage and move forward. I go to Brodhead next Lord's day, 'D. V.' Will be with the saints in the dedication of their new house of worship. This was my charge for five years and a better people God never let the sun shine on. Deacon Albright says he is going to kill the fatted calf. Can't ye editor go up with us? Will do you good; come. Dr. J. G. Bow, of Louisville, preaches the sermon. We may continue a few days with the pastor in a meeting."

A Humane Appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind., Mr. U. D. Williams, 106 West Main St., says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discovery, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation." It saves more lives than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, whooping cough, quinsy, hoarseness, and phthisis; stops hemorrhages of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed at Penny's Drug Store, 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

Johnny's father going into the stable saw Johnny sitting on the horse's back, with slate and pencil in his hand.

"Why, son, what are you doing?" he asked.

"Writing a composition," was the reply.

"But why don't you write it in the house?"

"Because," answered the little fellow, "the teacher told me to write a composition on a horse, and I am doing it—see!"

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. Penny's Drug Store.

KINGSVILLE.

Anyone having a piano box (upright) for sale, will please address Miss E. M. Creighton, Kingsville, Ky.

The cold-blooded murder here of Mr. Hal Vandivier, of Harrodsburg, by Harve Watts, of Nemo, Tenn., cast a sickening gloom over this community.

Mr. Vandivier was a noble fellow, and although he had been here but little over a month he had many acquaintances. "To know him was to love him," expresses the sentiment of the community. His popularity was remarkable and increasing daily. He seemed from the first to desire to make friends and made them readily. If he had any grave faults they had not been discovered. He never spoke an unkind word of any one nor made an unpleasant comment. On the other hand he saw only the good traits of the people around him. He was of unusually handsome personality, big and imposing looking, weighing 204 pounds. He was 32 years old. He was quite original and of a very jovial nature. Even the children were fond of him and mingled their tears with those of elder hearts.

He spent his last evening, until 11:30, with a small party of friends at the home of your correspondent, and since his residence in Kingsville we had never seen him in a more jovial mood. He was the life of the crowd, his witty remarks and good humor keeping a continuous flow of laughter and merriment.

He returned Monday from a brief visit to his aged parents at Harrodsburg and some one enquired if he had a pleasant visit.

"Why certainly, I saw my father and mother," and was so rejoiced that his mother was improving in health. May God comfort them in their terrible sorrow and help them to bear it to the end, for He alone can. Public opinion here is very strong against Mr. Watts. It was such a pitiable crime because there was no provocation. The victim did not know, and therefore did not understand the desperate character he had to deal with and not being forewarned was not forearmed and had no way of protecting himself. It seems so particularly sad that he should have been killed for simply complying with a request, as he was ever ready to do every favor that was asked him, no matter how greatly it may have inconvenienced himself. He lived much for others and if he had a fault it was too little consideration for self.

The murder occurred Thursday at 3 P. M. and death ensued 15 minutes later. Mr. B. P. Shewmaker, of Moreland, came and conveyed the remains of his brother-in-law to Moreland and thence to Harrodsburg. Owing to the reunion the town was almost depopulated but all that tender hands could do was done during the last moments of this young man, shot down in his glorious young manhood.

Miss Blanche VanDeveer, of Stanford, who is teaching here, adjourned her school and was the first woman to reach the depot. She combed his hair and did all she could for his poor remain. ELIZABETH M. CREIGHTON.

About Advertising.—A man can live without advertising. So can a wagon be drawn without wheels, but it would take a mighty strong pair of horses to pull it along for any length of time. Just so with a business. There was a time when advertising was scarcely known, as man could do without it, but a first-class merchant nowadays knows by experience that advertising pays. He knows that when he goes to buy anything himself, from a cigar to a threshing machine, it is usually an advertised article, or he naturally believes that the maker is afraid of the limelight of publicity. When an article is really salable, the cost of advertising is lost in the increased amount of sales that it makes. To be on the safe side always insist on buying advertised articles.

and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and

ZION CITY, always the center of religious fanaticism and impure under Dowie, grows steadily worse since his death. It is developing shocking criminality and is breeding a subdivision of Dowieites who are impelled by spirits to strangle people. Arrest and the prospect of a trial for murder lead them to confess that they have been imposed upon by bad spirits whose character they had mistaken. They supposed they were casting devils out of a poor paralyzed woman, but they realize now that the devils were in them, inciting them to commit a cold-blooded murder. Evidently it is high time that the State of Illinois broke up the whole settlement. Until his mind failed, Dowie had a certain amount of common sense which led him to keep the fanaticism of his dupes within bonds. Now he is gone, they are without control.

In a speech at the Nashville Home-Coming, Gov. Folk, of Missouri, declared that the time was ripe for the Democrats to return to the principles of Thomas Jefferson; dwelt upon the evils attendant on a protective tariff and also called attention to the growing inroads of Federal power into matters which should properly be entirely within the jurisdiction of the States themselves.

In his speech at Leitchfield Wednesday, Samuel W. Hager, the democratic nominee for governor, made plain his position in regard to the situation. He denied that he had brought out Owen Tyler as a candidate for mayor, or had done anything except urge that a fair primary be held. He said the democratic voters of Louisville had made Mr. Tyler the nominee without dictation from any one.

COL. BENNETT H. YOUNG, of Louisville, opened the democratic campaign in Woodford county with a speech, during the course of which he read letters from prominent Confederate veterans in 28 counties bearing upon Mr. A. E. Wilson's claims to a large percentage of the Confederate vote. A majority of the letters read state that the "Confeds" are all right and will stamp under the rooster.

WILLIAM R. HEARST has given out a statement in New York denying that he is a candidate for the presidency and asserting that he could not conceive of any conditions under which he would be willing to become a candidate.

THE COURIER-JOURNAL seems to be about as proud of Ex-Gov. Bradley's opening speech at Princeton Tuesday as the republican papers are. It devoted over 12 columns of its Wednesday's edition to it.

POLITICAL.

Gen. Cecil Clay, general agent of the Department of Justice, died suddenly in Washington.

George Lieberth, Internal Revenue Collector for the Sixth District, was found dead in bed at Newport.

Daniel A. Ryan, an attorney, was nominated for Mayor by the Republican municipal convention in San Francisco.

Republicans of Boyle county will meet in Mass Convention in the courthouse in Danville Oct. 5, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Legislature.

Secretary Taft is to travel from Vladivostok to Moscow, a 10 days' journey, in a train-de-luxe, which will consist of diner, observation car and three sleepers. This will be in the middle of November and special provisions, including fruit and vegetables, will be put on board the train at different points. At St. Petersburg the Secretary will be the guest of the Czar.

Attorney C. C. Williams Speedily And Justly Acquitted.

MT. VERNON, Sept. 25.—Attorney C. C. Williams had his examining trial today before Judge L. W. Bethurum on the charge of shooting and killing Dr. S. W. Adkins. Judge T. Z. Morrow, Hon. B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, and Judge John W. Brown, of the local bar, represented Mr. Williams, while S. D. Lewis, county attorney, acted for the Commonwealth. The court-house was packed, even the isles and space within the bar being filled by friends and admirers of the attorney. Mrs. Susan Butner, Miss Fanny Butner, Master James Thompson, son of F. L. Thompson, and Mrs. S. W. Adkins, the only eye witnesses, were all introduced by the Commonwealth and all stated in substance that Mr. Williams was standing at the gate at the residence of Mrs. Susan Butner engaged in a conversation with her about some business matters, when Dr. Adkins passed, going in the direction of Mr. Williams' residence. He went only a short distance after passing the Butner residence and immediately retraced his steps and just as he got opposite the gate against which the attorney was leaning, he made a very insulting statement to the attorney. Mr. Williams turned to him with the admonition to him to pass on, that he wanted no trouble. Dr. Adkins immediately rushed upon him, striking him in the face with his left hand, while reaching for his pistol with his right. But Williams was quicker and his aim was better, for he quickly drew his pistol and fired the fatal shot which took effect in Dr. Adkins' breast, two inches to the left of the heart, the ball passing through the lower part of the right hip. As quick as a flash both men reached for and grabbed the other's pistol in an endeavor to prevent one from shooting the other. It was a struggle to the death and each did his best to take the life of the other. In the struggle both men fell to the pavement and finally into the street in their terrible conflict. Finally friends came, the shot having aroused the whole town. Mr. Williams was found on top with his knee on Adkins' chest, while with his left hand he gripped the doctor's pistol, each making every effort to shoot. The sheriff and jailer hearing the shot, rushed to the scene to find the men still struggling. Mr. Williams asked the officers to take Dr. Adkins' pistol, which they did, whereupon he released his hold on Adkins, arose and walked away and Adkins was carried to his office, later being taken to the home of Willis Adams, at which place he died.

The attorney refused to ask for an acquittal upon the Commonwealth testimony, though the court held that he was entitled to it, but took the witness stand himself and detailed the tragedy and all the facts leading up thereto. It was a statement that won the sympathy and admiration of the vast audience that listened with bated breath to every word that fell from his lips. He told of the filing of the suit and the immediate visit from the doctor to his office demanding that he force his client to settle the alimony claim for a mere pittance, and upon his refusal, of the threat the doctor made. He detailed with telling effect how the doctor had stopped him upon the street and told him if he did not make his wife settle the alimony claims, he (the doctor) would take Williams' life; of the frequent insulting remarks made in the presence of others and of his vicious looks when meeting him on the street, while his hand rested on his pistol. Some eight or 10 men were summoned as witnesses who had heard the doctor make threats against the attorney, but they had no opportunity to testify as the Commonwealth's own testimony had so completely vindicated the attorney's actions that the county attorney, upon the conclusion of Mr. Williams' testimony, said in part: "I do not believe under this testimony that a conviction could or should be had in this case. The attack came from the deceased and the defendant had a perfect right to act. I therefore ask on behalf of the Commonwealth that this case be dismissed and that the defendant be discharged." Judge Bethurum concurred in the opinion of the prosecuting attorney and immediately ordered the release of the defendant. Nearly the entire audience came forward and heartily congratulated Mr. Williams upon his just and speedy acquittal. Every attorney of the Stanford bar tendered his services to Mr. Williams, as did many other able lawyers throughout the State. Many prominent business men of Lincoln and other counties wrote him letters of sympathy and also offered any assistance within their power.
